

January fundraising ideas

New years resolution

We all know 1st January is for new starts, but why not make it have real impact. Turn your new years resolution into a fantastic fundraiser, with lasting impact.

Soup cook off

Beat the January blues and host an evening with friends or family, testing who can cook the best soup, with guests voting for their favourite. Charge a small entry fee for guests to receive their voting card and offer a prize to the winning cook.

Health challenge

January is a month focused on fitness as people try to start the year off with good habits. You can set yourself a challenge related to health and fitness and ask for pledges. If you wish to start running and decide to take on the 'Couch to 5K challenge' then your peers can donate for each kilometre reached.

Office etiquette fines

Bring some good New Year positivity into your office and set some new ground rules. These can be as simple as 'trying not to speak negatively' or 'no sitting at your desk during your lunch break' and if these rules get broken the staff member has to donate to the fines pot.

National Lego Day - 28th January

Get creative and involve Lego within your fundraising. You could host a Lego building competition or get friends and family to donate to watch you do a Lego walk where you bravely walk across lots of pieces of Lego. These are becoming more popular and can bring some laughter to your friends and family.

Every penny you raise makes a real difference to local children and their families.
